"A little more education and practice at the barn is the present need of dairy progress in Maine," says the Massachusetts Floughman, and the worst of it is, 'tis true. New York appropriates $95,000 for the use of her dairy commission, and $5,000 for her State Dairymen's Association—$100,000 in all for the dairy. Will not Maine have to wake up just a little to keep pace in the arch of progress with the dairy business? Now for the weeds! Weather permitting never allow the weeds to get the start of the work of destroying them. The work should be done mostly with horse power, but use the hoe wherever the cultivators fail to do the work. Taken the year through, the separator properly handled, probably will cream milk somewhat cleaner than methods of setting. Under good management, how-ever, this difference will be small. In several cases tested last winter of Cooley setting, the creaming was as complete as by the separator. It is only good work in either case that creams milk properly.

The flowers within God's-Acre see that fair and wondrous sight,
And hear the angels singing to the sleepers through the night;
And, lot throughout the hours of day those gentle flowers prolong
The music of the angels in that tender slumber-song:

From angel and from flower the years have learned that southing some. that soothing song,
And with its heavenly music speed the days and

Before the full bench of the Supreme Court at Concord, N. Attorney General Eastman opposed delay, insisting that already one murderer had been hanged under the law, and if it was unconstitutional, the people ought to know it. The court took the matter under advisement and will announce its ruiling on Mr. Burleigh's application within a few days.

The pe-organized concern of Greeg & Co. have entered into a new life, inspired by the confidence of its friends, and propose to keep on the right of the line and in the front rank.

The period of the line and in the front rank.

The period of all competiors, and the machine we offer this year is a marked advance from the old lines. The improvements we have adopted in our mower are the result of costly and thorough experiments.

All the prominent features of the old machine are retained, but greatly improved to meet the demands of the present time; in fact, we have always been ahead of the-times, and unscruptious limitators have tired to profit by our experiments. We think we can say without egotiam that we have the best mower in the world.

SEEDS AND IMPLEMENTS The WALTER A. WOOD TUBULAR STEEL MOWER is the easiest or the Farm and Garden, assuring you that we are prepared to furnish everything in the market. Being constructed almost entirely of rolled steel and malleable iron, it is light in weight, strong and durable, without an ounce of superfluous metal. This mower has steel wheels which will not crack nor break, and direct underdraft, preventing weight or strain on the horses' necks. At the Government Trial at Logan, Utah, in July, 1891, it drew 67 lbs. lighter than the lightest draft mower in the contest, 15 mowers competing. For ease of adjustment and fine field work, it is without an equal. Farmers, do you want a mower that will stand any test to which mower are subject? If so, buy the Walter A. Wood Tubular Steel Mower. The WALTER A. The frame is strong and durable, giving sufficient elasticity, which, with the finely tempered seat spring, renders it an easy rider. The rake teeth are made of the best steel, finely tempered. The axles are cold rolled steel. It is a fact that this rake is made of the very best material to be obtained, and can be had in all well-known widths, with WOOD or STEEL WHEELS.

Grass came through the winter without much killing, and now shows a thick, heavy stand. The few hot days have been sufficient to give it a good, healthy start, but were not continued long enough to force an undue growth of the early kinds. The best stand is always realized when the weather is only moderately hot, and the growth gradual but continuous.

The profit realized from its production is none too large when the expense account is kept down to the minimum. Good tools and
